

JCEA

A Peer-Reviewed Journal on Convergence and Future Studies in Asia

About the journal

Journal of Contemporary Eastern Asia (ISSN 2383-9449) is a refereed biannual journal that takes a lead on a new scholarship in Asia. In the past, the JCEA was dedicated to the study of current political, social and economic trends in East and Southeast Asia. But now, the JCEA finds unique aspects of Asian scholarship by expanding its scope to (socio-technical) convergence and future (network) studies. The JCEA editors are working very hard to boost the scholarly presence of new Asian scholarship around the world and secure its reputation as an emerging world-class publishing outlet. The editors welcome manuscripts based on original research or significant reexamination of existing literature.

Following a series of special editions on new and emerging methods in humanities and social sciences, the World Association for Triple Helix and Future Strategy Studies (WATEF) is proud to announce a call for paper in 2018. In accordance with tradition, this special issue selects original data-driven (network and Triple Helix) studies presented in seminars and DISC (Data, Innovation, Social networks, and Convergence) conferences hosted by the WATEF in the past and forthcoming period. Some other papers presented elsewhere and unpublished quality manuscripts can be considered for the inclusion of this themed issue.
